BETTER THINGS TO COME

Fr. Marce Singson

In the tradition of the Church, John the Baptist has always figured prominently within the Advent liturgy. In the gospel today, it gives the impression that John was a very serious man, a person without any sense of humour. He has been caricatured by the Bible pounding, hell and brimstone preacher who exists more completely in movies and literature than in real life. John had a vital message to proclaim. He openly proclaimed that the one to follow him was more powerful than he was. Indeed, Jesus is not only more powerful than John, he is more of everything that is good.

As such is God's way, to surprise us with something much better than we could have hoped for. We can be confident about the future, about better things to come, because in looking to the past we can see how God has been at work. The circumstances behind the first reading today from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah, was that King Ahaz, a very weak and unfaithful ruler, had brought the country to such a ruinous state that it was like a stump of what had once been a flourishing tree. Isaiah promised that God would make a shoot from the stump to begin a new, luxurious growth. This shoot was to be an ideal king from the house of David, upon whom would come the spirit of the Lord so that the kingdom could be renewed. Isaiah foresaw a human king, but the Church has a deeper understanding. Reading this passage of Isaiah in the light of fuller revelation, the Church sees the promise fulfilled in the person of Jesus, the King who proclaimed the kingdom of heaven. And that is God's way: his fulfilment is always greater than his promise.

Perhaps at times we become a little dubious about awaiting a better future, especially an eternal one. The reason is that in our human lives we very often experience the opposite of God's way. People who make promises frequently do not keep them. Politicians, advertisements and commercials exaggerate the quality of their leadership or products. When something is being given away, there is usually some catch. We must not let our unhappy human experiences dictate our outlook on God and his promises.

Our expectation should be a joyful one, filled with confidence in God's goodness. And our anxiety about the future should be replaced with a trust that God always does more than merely keep his promises. For people of faith, better things are yet to come.

St. Edward's Primary School will have new faces in the administration next year as Bronwyn Buckley was appointed Acting Principal of St. Peter's Primary School in Rochedale. Danielle Carter takes up her new position as head of the Primary School of Assisi College in Upper Coomera. Rick Sheehan is our new school Principal and Brisbane Catholic Education is still pondering over some people to put in our school as APRE. Brendan who has been in an acting APA role here at school will be continuing in his role of APA (Assistant Principal Administration) in 2017.

We wish Bronwyn and Danielle the best in their new positions and we sincerely thank them for making St. Edward's School a wonderful institution through their dedication and commitment.

We come to the end of another wonderful year. We had the opportunity to farewell our wonderful Year 6 students on Tuesday night. The theme “Our Treasured Pieces” brought the Eucharistic liturgy together –As the graduating students have journeyed through their primary school years they have collected many treasured pieces; academic skills, friendships, leadership qualities, confidence, resilience, creativity, persistence, a love of their God and a sense of community. It is through the discovery of these pieces each graduand has grown and uncovered strengths within; inspiring and challenging them. Tonight is a time to be thankful for the experiences; people and places that have helped join all the pieces together to make the primary school puzzle an amazing picture. We wish our graduating cohort every success as they continue their journey.

Next year Bronwyn will take up a position as Acting Principal at St Peter’s Rochedale. She’s excited about the opportunity but also very reflective about her time at St Edward’s and registering missing the great kids here, the supportive families and the staff who have become friends over the last 7 years. Danielle takes up the position of Acting Head of Primary at Assisi College at Upper Coomera. We will be appointing an acting APRE in for her current role over the coming weeks. Brendan who has been in an acting APA role here at school will be continuing in his role of APA (Assistant Principal Administration) in 2017.

We recognize many great opportunities, wonderful student learning and achievements, sporting successes and resilience, social and outreach undertakings, many human moments of caring and support. We thank all the staff as they have displayed a true professionalism, care for students, a dedication to providing the best learning and teaching for students under their care and to grow the gifts of each individual child. St Edward’s is indeed a great community. We thank Fr Marce for his continued spiritual guidance- we are truly blessed to have his support. Life really is grand at St Edward’s. We wish you all of God’s blessings wherever you are and in whatever you do.

On behalf of all in Admin we wish each of you a relaxing, fun holiday, a very Merry Christmas and the blessings of love and peace. May the start of 2017 bring each of you the promise of another wonderful year.

Next year we focus on “Together We Grow”!

Bron, Danielle and Brendan

The St Vincent de Paul Conference Daisy Hill takes this opportunity to thank sincerely the members of our parish and school communities for their support during the year. With your generous donations of food, furniture, and bedding the needy in our community have been helped. In addition to receiving material assistance clients are helped to get their lives back on track through help with budgeting and financial management, and where necessary professional counselling is provided. Thank you again and I wish you all a joyful and peace-filled Christmas season.

Wings Social and Emotional Wellbeing in the Early Years

Coordinators of Daisy Hill and Southside Family Day Care, have attended a two day professional development on 'Wings'. Wings is a strengths-based approach to social and emotional wellbeing for children from birth to five years. It is designed to support early years' educators to optimise their practice, in order to improve overall outcomes for children. Wings builds upon educators capacity and strategies by developing a greater understanding of brain development in the early years, attachment and the way to build relationships that support children's resilience and wellbeing.

If you would like more information about our service, including becoming an Educator or Childcare enquiries please contact the office on: 3208 0463.

Children's Liturgy takes place during the Sunday 8.30am Mass fortnightly during the school term only. Upcoming Dates for 2017 will be advised as soon as the dates are available.

We can use your postage stamps from your mail

The Salesian Missions use the old stamps that are passed on to them to raise funds. This goes towards Salesian Education and relief work in developing nations. Yes, the Post man does not have to stop by often, but on that rare occasion he does, and on that envelope, if there is a stamp, can you please pass this on to us, instead of throwing it in the bin? A small gesture, lending a big helping hand. We have placed a collection box for stamps in the parish office.

If you are new to the Parish or are visiting, Welcome!
