The Transfiguration of the Lord — Year A-1

It is wonderful for us to be here

The liturgy of Transfiguration Sunday gives us a foretaste of future glory. In the Gospel, as in all the synoptic gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke), the account of the Transfiguration occurs as Jesus is about to make his final journey to imminent tragedy is seen through a vision of the glory that is to come. For us, who carry our own tragedies and crosses, there is help in these readings. They hint at our own glory, too, as God's adopted children, redeemed and sanctified.

Jerusalem and to the Cross. His

We, too, will be led into his presence and offered a share in his glory (First Reading). On that day, all creation will rejoice (Psalms). The gift's promise is, for us as it was for Peter, 'a lamp for lighting the way through the dark until the dawn comes' (Second Reading).

This week let's pray that, despite our own personal struggles and the darkness of the world's news, we might hold onto the hope of the glory that is ours through a share in Christ's everlasting life.

GOSPEL Matthew 17: 1-9 REFLECTION

I settle in my place of prayer. I take a couple of deep breaths. I ask God to speak to me through the word, in the power of the Spirit. Then I read the text slowly, attentively, prayerfully . . . and, if it helps, imaginatively.

It's not a coincidence that the same three disciples who share this moment of glory with Christ are also the ones who accompany him through the sorrow of Gethsemane. How am I a faithful witness to Christ in the highs and lows of my daily life, and who are the ones to encourage me on my journey?

In the presence of the three, Jesus shines brightly – heaven draws near, and the sorrows of the world fall away. What does the Transfiguration mean for me and my struggles? How do faith, joy and love shine from me each day?

Peter wants to build tents, perhaps understandably, to capture the moment. How do I want to respond? Maybe I am invited to hold the gift of the moment lightly, simply keeping silent before the Lord who is present to me now. I end, when ready: Glory be . . .

ACCF- Catholic Foundations, Module 2

The Archdiocesan Centre for Catholic Formation was launched in order to engage the baptised in a deeper experience of God as understood and experienced in the Catholic tradition.

At the heart of the centre's offerings are four core modules entitled Catholic Foundations. Catholic Foundations is designed to draw Catholics into the fullness of the Catholic life and provide formation for those considering ministry roles.

The second module, "Understanding, Praying and Living the Scriptures" will commence on August 21st, 2023, from 7-9 pm on Monday evenings (21 Aug, 28 Aug, 4 Sep, 11 Sep, 9 Oct, 16 Oct, 23 Oct, 30 Oct, 6 Nov, 13 Nov).

Please note that you don't need to complete Module 1 before taking Module 2.
