'Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood will live in me and I in him'

On this feast of Corpus Christi we give thanks for who we are, and all that God has done for us.

Today's readings show how God's plan moves towards a new covenant of love through Christ.

In the First Reading we see Moses mediate between God and the people, instructing them about God's rules and commands. For the Israelites, blood is the symbol of life, and Moses sprinkles blood from sacrificed bulls on both the altar and the people to signify their desire to enter into a covenant with God.

St Paul (Second Reading) explains that Jesus himself has now become the mediator of a new covenant. Jesus is both the priest offering the sacrifice and the victim being offered; his own blood replacing that of animals. In doing this, Jesus brings 'the perfect sacrifice to God through the eternal Spirit', which takes away our sins.

In the Gospel account of the Last Supper, Jesus shares a meal with his dearest friends, giving himself in the bread and wine, a gift of love and friendship. On the following day, Good Friday, Jesus will freely give his own life, a sacrifice made out of his great love for the world. Here begins a new relationship between God and his people.

Today's Psalm is one of thanksgiving and praise to the Lord for his goodness and gift. The psalmist asks, 'How can I repay the Lord?'

As we celebrate the Eucharist today, let us offer to God a promise of undivided love, and an offering of ourselves to the service of others.

GOSPEL Mark 14: 12–16; 22–26 REFLECTION

I settle myself, and place any concerns and desires into the Lord's hands so that I can focus all my attention on this time with him. I ask for the guidance of the Spirit as I read the Gospel passage slowly a few times.

If it helps, I may like to place myself in the scene; either as one of the disciples, sitting at the table with Jesus, or as a bystander looking on, curious to see what is happening.

I notice the table set for the Passover meal and smell the aroma of the food. I watch as Jesus blesses, then breaks, the bread and see him share the bread and wine with everyone there. I imagine Jesus speaking directly to me as he says: 'Take it, this is my body ... this is my blood'. I notice the tone of his voice and the look in his eyes as he offers it to me. Perhaps I ponder what his words mean. I notice how I am feeling. What might I want to say to Jesus, to the one who freely offered his life for me, for every one of us? I speak to him now from my heart. When I feel ready, I finish with a prayer of my choice.

GOOD NEWS TO SHARE!

It is with great enthusiasm that I join with our Parish Finance Council to inform you about the launch of the St Edward the Confessor Parish Endowment Fund.

We were recently blessed with a gift of $10,000 from an anonymous donor who wished to start an endowment for the parish. Additionally, the Archdiocese of Brisbane matched the donor's gift to help open the fund with $20,000.

An endowment is a fund in which the initial deposit is permanently invested for growth and never spent down. Each year the fund distributes 5% of the balance to the parish. As the fund matures through investment growth and contributions, the yearly distributions will become a steady stream of income to support parish life in perpetuity.

My hope is that this fund will grow with support from parishioners over the years. Please consider making a gift or perhaps leaving a gift in your Will to the St Edward the Confessor Parish Endowment Fund. It's a meaningful way to be an eternal guardian of this parish, sustaining the sacramental life of the community for generations of families to come.

Thank you for your ongoing commitment and a special thanks to the kind donor who started this fund for us. Please join me in praying that our new endowment continues to grow and bless this parish forever.

Safeguarding of Children & Vulnerable Adults

Last week our office/parish underwent a Safeguarding of Children & Vulnerable Adults audit. The auditor was very happy with our record keeping and we are up to date with all our compliance requirements. At this meeting there was the introduction of new mandatory forms/training for ALL our volunteers. These have now been made available to our volunteers for signing and as our training is now all online, this can be done in the comfort of your own home. Please complete the 'Safe Conduct Standards' and 'Prior Conduct Declaration' forms and the confirmation form of your completed training and return these to our office ASAP. Forms are also available at the back of the church. I would like to thank John Guiton our Safeguarding Representative for all the work he gives to our parish in this role.

Stay safe and stay well,

Fr Joseph
