THE RHYTHM OF CHRISTIAN LIFE

By: Fr. Marce Singson

The British Bible teacher, William Barclay, commenting on our Gospel lesson from Mark, makes this statement: The rhythm of the Christian life is the alternate meeting with God in the secret place and serving people in the market place. [William Barclay, The Gospel of Mark, 157] I am convinced that the essence of the Christian life is this ebb and flow of moving into the presence of God, from the busy-ness of life, and then returning to involvement with people, enriched by our spiritual renewal. How can we do God's work without some time to practice the presence of God in our lives? But prayer and devotion that does not lead to practical action for good is simply self-indulgence.

If you remember the Gospel reading last weekend it was about Jesus sending his 12 apostles by twos for a missionary work. Today's Gospel narrates their return to their Master and made their report. The twelve disciples had had an exhilarating, but exhausting, experience. This was the first time they were on their own without Jesus with them. You will remember that they had preached, they casted out demons, they anointed the sick, and they called people to respond to God by changing their lives.

As Jesus listened to each "team" report, he must have been moved by their tender stories of healing children, inspiring people, and boldly witnessing to Jesus. But the Lord must have seen fatigue in their faces and so, in a gracious moment of concern, Jesus said to them: Come away for a while and rest. I know a place close by ~ just across the lake ~ a deserted place, literally a bit of wilderness.

Today Our Lord calls us to join him in a "deserted place," a place where we can be with our fellow believers inside his holy house: The Church. He calls us to find that deserted place, from time to time, where there is no Wi-Fi or 3G, e-mail or voice-mail, a place where briefly there is no Facebook or Twitter. In the Gospel today Jesus challenges us to recharge our batteries ... with Him and with our fellow Christian believers. Let us therefore grab this opportunity to recharge our souls.

Basic questions answered according to the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

Q. What is interior penance?

It is the movement of a "contrite heart" (Psalm 51:19) drawn by divine grace to respond to the merciful love of God. This entails sorrow for and abhorrence of sins committed, a firm purpose not to sin again in the future and trust in the help of God. It is nourished by hope in divine mercy.

Q. What forms does penance take in the Christian life?

Penance can be expressed in many and various ways but above all in fasting, prayer, and almsgiving. These and many other forms of penance can be practiced in the daily life of a Christian, particularly during the time of Lent and on the penitential day of Friday.

Q. Is a confessor bound to secrecy?

Given the delicacy and greatness of this ministry and the respect due to people every confessor, without any exception and under very severe penalties, is bound to maintain "the sacramental seal" which means absolute secrecy about the sins revealed to him in confession.

Q. What are the effects of this sacrament?

The effects of the sacrament of Penance are: reconciliation with God and therefore the forgiveness of sins; reconciliation with the Church; recovery, if it has been lost, of the state of grace; remission of the eternal punishment merited by mortal sins, and remission, at least in part, of the temporal punishment which is the consequence of sin; peace, serenity of conscience and spiritual consolation; and an increase of spiritual strength for the struggle of Christian living.

Q. Can this sacrament be celebrated in some cases with a general confession and general absolution?

In cases of serious necessity (as in imminent danger of death) recourse may be had to be a communal celebration of Reconciliation with general confession and general absolution, as long as the norms of the Church are observed and there is the intention of individually confessing one's grave sins in due time.
